

LAWW RESOURCE KIT

Welcome to your Learning at Work Week resource kit provided by Learnerbly.

Learning at Work Week is a unique annual event organized by Campaign for Learning to build learning cultures at work that takes place from 13th to 19th May.

What Can I Do With This Kit?

This year's LAWW theme is Learning Power, and we want to help power up your learning using the Learnerbly platform.

In this kit you'll find some useful resources and templates to help foster a continuous learning culture to truly help your teams grow and succeed.

Our goal is to help you plan an engaging week of learning, start conversations, and better understand your teams learning journey.

What's In The Kit?

- Collaborative learning posters to be printed or used in a digital collab platform to discover people's learning journey.
- A personal development plan template to help guide employee learning goals.
- A template presentation for starting a book club to encourage joint learning.
- A reusable blog you can share internally or post on your site about the importance of learning.
- An infographic on how to effectively create a skill swap session across departments.
